

SISTER 2 SISTER

Within the University of Michigan, 'Sister 2 Sister' stands as a beacon of community for Black women. Comprising nine devoted members, their mission is clear: to provide a safe environment, influence, and positively impact each other's lives. They embrace the unique intersection of Black and female identities, creating a nurturing space where every voice matters. 'Sister 2 Sister' is more than a name; it's a promise of support and celebration. Their commitment to fostering a safe and inclusive environment shows through their engaging programming, such as their "Purple Table Talk" series where they host conversations ranging from healthy habits to building financial stability in college. Through genuine connections and solidarity, they empower each other to thrive. As they navigate campus life, 'Sister 2 Sister' exemplifies the strength found in sisterhood, proving that together, they can conquer any challenge.
